

Welcome to funäsdalen!

Summer 2009

The summer in Funäsdalen is magical and contradictory. On one hand a dazzling wilderness – maybe one of Sweden’s most beautiful - with tall mountains, hidden valleys, untouched rivers, creeks and lake systems abounding with fish. You can travel for days without meeting other people. On the other hand this mountainous area is easily accessible. It’s easy to experience the greatness of nature in an orderly fashion, by one self or together with others. On the hiking trails you will meet beginners as well as experienced mountaineers. Even though Funäsdalen is in the middle of Sweden, we have the highest and most scenic peaks south of the polar circle. Tallest of all is Helags with its glacier at 1.796 meters above sea level. It’s a fascinating alpine area with its untouched nature.

The mountains in Härjedalen are either intensively verdurous, as some of Sweden’s foremost flowering mountains Mittåkläppen and Hamrafjället, or fascinating barren.

Discover “30 gem tours in Funäsdalen” are our hiking favorites, the best all- or half-day hikes.

"30 gem tours in Funäsdalen" are our hiking favorites, the best all- or half-day hikes. The idea is that you should be able to stay and eat well, and have several fantastic day trips to choose from. Simple but of great quality is our criteria. Suitable clothing and one of our easy descriptions is all you need to be able to fully enjoy a nice walk! For the more experienced mountaineers who want to hike on their own, the adventures are almost boundless; 450 km of marked trails and limitless unmarked possibilities. This year we have introduced a summit-climbing program. We have chosen 60 peaks over a 1.0000 meters, which you can reach with in a day's hike. You choose which one you want to climb. You can get to high elevations easily by car within the area of Funäsdalen to start your hike, or you can use the chair lift in Ramundberget. Rest hostels, mountain hotels, and restaurants are all within hiking distances

Respect the ruel "Allemansrätten" and the main ruel is:

NOT DISTURB – NOT DESTROY. Have also in mind that it is good to bring a compass and a map and the most used maps are Z8 and 182E. Buy them in the tourist office or at the other service locations. Have a nice time in the mountains!
